What does it mean to ‘flip your fridge’?

Open the door and see your refrigerator in a new light, asking yourself what you can ‘flip’ around to make healthy eating easier for you and your family!

Try these 5 easy steps to get started:

1. Easy to see, easy to choose: place healthier snacks like fresh fruits, veggies and hummus, light yogurt, string cheese, or bagged nuts visible, and at eye level. Use clear containers so you know what’s inside
2. Make it snack-ready: as soon as you get home from the store spend a few minutes washing and cutting up some of your produce so that’s it an easy grab when hunger strikes
3. Out of sight, out of mind: keep the less-healthy items in the back of the fridge or tucked away in a drawer
4. Be food-safety minded: keep any raw meat in the bottom section or drawers of your refrigerator
5. Rethink your drink: best bets are water, seltzer water, unsweetened tea and low-fat or skim milk as your thirst quencher.
